

International Moving Plan

DOG PAWS
& SANDY HAIR
www.DogPawsAndSandyHair.com

Medicines: Return to the pharmacy for recycling.
DO NOT FLUSH or toss it's bad for the environment.

Furniture go through each room and review each piece.
Need it there?
Bedrooms,
Living room,
Dining Room,
Kitchen,
Basement
Laundry / Storage

Lighting & Accessories: These items could be hard to come by where you're going. I found that lamps really suck in costa rica so if you do ship -pack lamps & any decor you want if you're looking for a specific vibe.

Garage Will you be bringing your tools?
How often will they be used?
Can you get them there if you need them?
Where will you store them?
If you brought them can you sell them where you're going if you don't need it??

Vehicle This is a big one and requires a little research. First what are the import fees / duty on vehicles? Is it worth it to bring a car or get one over there?

Memories: Can you take pictures/scan any photos of items that are sentimental to you? Having them digitally archived will greatly assist with the amount of STUFF we keep. All items I don't really use but want a memory of I've taken a photo or scanned it into dropbox for keeps.

Clothing: EDIT EDIT EDIT -we only wear 10% of our closet it's time to edit. Does it fit? Is it in style? Does it suit the weather? Is the fabric suitable for the weather there?

Pets If your bringing your fluffy friends (and I hope that you are) they will need things too. Buy food locally but they will need harness, bowls etc.

Hobbies What hobbies will you have where you are moving too? Golf? Pickleball? Tennis? Baseball the list is endless. Bring what you need.

Kids What age are they? Have them help for round 1 then edit their stuff. We know kids will bring everything if you let them.

Garden Some people when they retire hire a local to care for their yard. Do you need a shovel, Rake? Small Garden Tool? Hose?
Most of the time it's easier to

QUESTIONS TO ASK EACH ITEM

1. Do you NEED it?
2. Do you WANT it?
3. Where will it go?
4. Can I buy it there?

Discover Costa Rica

E: DogPawsAndSandyHair@gmail.com